P. & R. PRESIDENT STRONGLY OPPOSES N. Y. C. PROPOSITION

Philadelphia to Fight
Strenuously Against
Smith Proposal Anent
5th Great Trunk Line.

THEIR POSITION

Philadelphia, July 24.—Agnew T. Dice, president of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, yesterday joined in the protest of local business interests against the plan of the New York Central Railroad for a fifth great through route between New York and the Middle West.

The New York Central seeks to establish the through connection by taking over the Central Railroad of New Jersey, with valuable New York terminals, and the northern part of the Reading system.

Mr. Dice points out in a formal statement that the contemplated route is actually available at the present time. The New York Central or any other road could make use of it he explains, and derive the same results as though it owned the trackage.

Should the New York Central come into possession of the New York terminals of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, the shipping interests not only of Philadelphia but elsewhere would suffer, Mr. Dice explains. Those terminals now are kept open without preference or discrimination for all trunk line connections and such would not be the case were the New York Central to control them.

Dice Points Out Objections.
Mr. Dice's statement follows:
"The morning press contained an article setting forth the views of the

SNYDER THROWS DOWN GAUNTLET TO MR. PINCHOT

Harrisburg, Pa., July 25.—The ultimatum of State Treasurer Snyder was delivered to Governor Pinchot at Milford today, where the Executive Board held a council of war on the impending suit to test the constitutionality of the administrative code.

In a letter to Attorney General Woodruff, who was summoned to the Governor's home last night, Snyder made plain, it became known today, that he does not intend to compromise on the issue he has raised but will see his action in holding up the pay rolls through to the finish.

Snyder stated today he had decided to hold up the pay rolls of the Department of Property and Supplies on August 1st, as a result of a question in connection with the purchasing power vested in this Department, which he contends is contrary to the expressed language of the constitution.

SEEK TO IMPROVE

The N. Y. C. crossing at the Clearfield creek bridge has been receiving a good deal of attention lately; and to help make this a less dangerous place, the Commercial Club has called the attention of Mr. Barrow of the N. Y. C. to an embankment that should be eliminated. This will allow drivers going down to the crossing to see a train a greater distance away than is now possible and give them an opportunity to get their cars stopped before reaching the crossing. Mr. Barrow said he would see that this is done shortly and in addition stated that an electric flash signal is to be placed at the crossing which will operate when trains are approaching the crossing.

These two measures when finished it is hoped, reduce or eliminate future accidents at this point.

Rush Of Immigrants To U. S. Begins Anew With New Aug. Quota Period

London, July 25.—The rush of immigrants to the United States continues.

12,000 are expected to sail from Southampton alone this week in order to take advantage of the new quota which will open slightly the new world gateway on the first of August.

The Tyrrenia sails with 1,100 third class passengers and 400 second class. Many of the latter occupying first class cabins because of overcrowding.

The Majestic's sailing has been postponed from Wednesday to Thursday in order that the vessel may reach New York August 1st. Reservations have been booked for 2,600 of whom 1,300 are third class passengers.

Scotland is sending out many immigrants. 12,000 Scots went to the United States and Canada this month.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS IN POLITICS AND IS USELESS, SAYS BOK

Camden, N. J., July 25.—International peace must be taken out of politics, Edwin E. Bok, Philadelphia publisher declared here today explaining his offer of $100,000 for the best practical plan for establishing permanent world tranquility.

"The League of Nations is in politics, the purpose of the award is exactly opposite and leaves the question out of politics," Bok told the United Press in an exclusive interview.

"The award has nothing whatever to do with the covenant of the League or the World Court."

Bok is offering $50,000 for the best peace suggestion. Upon decision of impartial judges, he will pay $50,000 more if action is taken on the proposal by the United States Senate.

"The award," continued Mr. Bok "is a serious offer to get somewhere with an acute problem. The whole idea has been carefully thought out for months. Men and women connected with it would not have affiliated with the Policy Committee of the award if it were propaganda. It's strength lies in the fact that it is independent, non-political and non-commercial. Otherwise, it would not be worth the effort."

POST OFFICE SAFE BLOWED AT PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Pa., July 25.—Safe breakers escaped with $1,500 in cash and stamps early today when they forced the safe of a post office sub-station on Market street.

BRISBIN MOONSHINER, FATHER OF SIX, GETS SENTENCE INCREASED 13 MONTHS WHEN HE PLAYS THE "SHEIK" GAME

David Phillips, of Brishbin and Decatur township, who was twice caught in the "dry" net as a liquor law violator, will have a chance to think things over seriously during the next 15 months.

Upon Phillips' second arrest he had his friend Jim Murray of Pottsville bail him for his appearance at court. He appeared all right and entered a plea of guilty but as he had brought his wife and five or six children to court along, he asked and was allowed to take the family home, agreeing to return the following day and serve his sentence of two months. He failed to keep his promise and the next heard of the gay and festive moonshiner he was over at Altoona making fast and furious love to a Blair county young lady. The Sanborn sheik is a rapid worker where the ladies are concerned and soon had the young lady believing he was going to marry her. Phillips was located at Hollidaysburg a couple of weeks ago and was brought to jail by the state police.

Snyder let his Blair county sweetheart caught out the sheik at the jail

LITTLE GIRL LOSES SEVEN FINGERS IN HEROIC ACTION

Had Them Cut off When
She Bravely Jumped In Front of Moving Car to Save Little Playmate.

ONLY 7 YEARS OLD

Oscola Mills, July 24.—Down at the Cottage State hospital at Philadelphia there is a little girl patient who looks wonderingly at her bandaged hands, seemingly perplexed that they must be bundled up as they are. She wants to get back to her mama and papa and her brothers and sisters, and she wants to play again with the children of the neighborhood, with the little boy who figured in the tragic accident which resulted in her admission to the hospital. The childish mind has not yet grasped the fact that her hands, now mercifully hidden from her bright eyes, are nearly useless, that they will never again be of much service to her to either work or play.

The record at the hospital shows the child is Veronica Chierney, aged 7 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Chierney of Newton, Rush township, the little settlement composed mostly of employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and just across the Moshannon creek from here on the Centre side of the boundary line. She was admitted to the hospital on July 9, with both hands crushed by the wheels of a railroad car. Portions of four fingers on the left hand and three on the right hand had to be amputated at the joints.

But the hospital record is not the

INDICTMENTS MADE AGAINST MAXWELL ARE ALL DISMISSED

New York, July 28.—The "poison pen" indictments brought against George Maxwell, president of the Society of Authors, Composers and Publishers, charging him with slandering wealthy society women of New York were dismissed today.

Judge John F. McIntyre and the general sessions court ruled there was not sufficient evidence to hold Maxwell in the case which has mystified and startled society.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Foster Wood will entertain at Crystal Springs Camp this evening in honor of their guests Captain and Mrs. McLauren, of Washington, D. C. who are visiting relatives and friends in this section.

Ira C. McCloskey is going to Pittsburgh tomorrow evening on a business trip.

Philippinos Demanding Immediate And Absolute Independence From U. S.

Manila, July 25.—Immediate and absolute independence for the Philippine Islands, to solve the present political crisis here was demanded yesterday in resolutions adopted by the Independence Committee, composed of all members of the legislature.

Action of Council, State and Department Secretaries in handing in resignations to General Leonard Wood because of general interference with civil affairs by the Governor General was endorsed. Recall of General Wood was demanded. Resolutions will be sent to President.

100 MORE STATE EMPLOYEES GET THE BLUE SLIP

Harrisburg, Pa., July 25.—More than 100 state employees were given notice of dismissal by heads of departments today in the general reorganization plan worked out by Governor Pinchot at Milford this week.

The dismissals were in Departments of Health, Property and Supplies, Forestry, Labor and Industry. The names of employees selected to go were not given out, but as fast as word from the Governor was received the notices were prepared.

The number dropped today brings the total in all departments thus far to about 200.

TO AID JAMESVILLE M. E. CHURCH

Mrs. George Fox of Jamesville entertained a number of ladies of the neville M. E. church Thursday or last week at her home for the purpose of stimulating work in the Ladies Aid Society. The event was a very enjoyable one. A fine luncheon was served after which members made their usual contribution and held their business session. The next place of meeting will be the home of Mrs. Irvin. It is the purpose of the organization to assist the church in every particular and just now they are bending their efforts toward obtaining funds for a new furnace for the church.

Methodists Of Entire Nation To Become As One Church In 1925

Cleveland, Ohio, July 25.—The administration of the northern and southern branches of the Methodist Episcopal church will be united in 1925.

The unification was effected by a joint commission of the two sections concluding their conference here today.

Although identical in all other respects, the administrative function of the northern and southern parishes have been split since the slavery issue of 1844.

The merger will be passed upon by general conferences and it is expected final ratification will be completed in 1925.

The latest figures estimates Methodist church membership at 6,200,000.

PENNSYLVANIAN, PROMINENT SCHOOL MAN OF WEST, VISITS HERE

Prof. Haven Smith and wife of Redlands, California, are guests of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. N. B. Smith, of Turnpike avenue, at present. Prof. Smith is city superintendent of schools at Redlands and has filled similar positions at Seattle, Wash., and Riverside, Cal., and is recognized as one of the leading school men of California.

Since most of the Rotarians desire to have a part in transporting the Altoona picnicers to the train this evening at 6:15 the regular session of the club has been put back to seven o'clock instead of the regular hour.

PUBLIC HEARING ON MAHAFFEY BRIDGE ON MONDAY NEXT

Viewers Allege Defects

Settlement With Firm
That Constructed It.

AT COURT HOUSE

The county bridge over the Susquehanna river at Mahaffey which has been more or less in the limelight for some time, will be given a final public airing on Monday next, according to an order made by Judge Bell yesterday.

This bridge, which is in the center of the improved state road at Mahaffey, had a hard time getting a place in the sun because the County Commissioners were at a loss for a time to get the wherewithal to pay for it. This necessary "joint" being passed the contract for the bridge was awarded to Whittaker & Diehl of Harrisburg.

During the course of construction the county viewers held, after looking the bridge over, that the contractors were not carrying out the specifications and a second "joint" was reached. The viewers, Messrs. A. G. Kramer, of Clearfield; H. A. Reese, of Kylertown, and J. S. Michaels, of Mahaffey, called the alleged defects to the attention of the contractors and County Commissioners at a hearing in the arbitration room of the Court House on May 11th. This hearing was adjourned to May 16 and more time was then granted in order that the contractors might have time to remedy the defects complained of.

On July 14th the viewers were no-

OTTO MOBILIST DID A FINE JOB THIS MORNING

Mr. Otto Mobilist, Altoonans are satisfied, is a mighty fine fellow, and so are all his fellows, dozens of whom were right on the job when the excursion train arrived this morning at the Pennsylvania station. Scott McKelvey, too, says, "Tell the folks through the paper tonight that Clearfield has a royal bunch of fellows. It was no job at all to act as chairman with such support. Everybody in town seemed to want to help. Thanks to all."

When the heavy train, carrying over 600 excursionists, arrived in town this morning, long lines of autos were waiting and in jig time they were all over at the park making merry. No lugging of baskets, no tired children. "It was great" so said they all.

And this evening these good fellows are going to duplicate their good work. The train leaves at 7:10 this

ALTOONA SHOP MEN AND FAMILIES ENJOY OUTING AT PARK; COME IN SPECIAL TRAIN OF TWELVE COACHES

Representatives of the freight, steel and bolt shops, truck shop, lumberyard, metal yard and yard laborers of the Pennsylvania railroad at Altoona, to the number of nearly 600 people, came to Clearfield this morning in a special train of 12 coaches for the purpose of picnicking in the beautiful Clearfield Park. The train arrived at 9:30 o'clock and was met by delegations representing the Rotary and Commercial Clubs and other business men of the town.

When the picnicers hopped off their train they found automobiles waiting to take the women, children and old people to the Park, while several trucks were also at hand for transporting baskets and catching the park. The crowd was not long in getting over and soon family parties were located about the grove while the process of getting dinner was soon under way.

The party had an up-to-date orchestra along with them and as soon as they could get their instruments in shape the dancing floor in the big exhibition building was occupied by 10

Arthur Mullen, Former Clearfield Boy, Dies Of An Accidental Shooting

Arthur Mullen, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henchbarger, was accidentally shot at his home in Akron Ohio, on Sunday, July 16th, 1923, and died a few hours later in the city hospital.

The lad's parents were away from home at the time and several other boys were with Arthur in the Henchbarger home. One of the boys picked up a shot gun, which he "didn't know was loaded," and while examining the gun it was discharged, the load striking Arthur in the leg, inflicting a terrible wound. The accident occurred at 4 o'clock p. m. and the boy passed away at the hospital at 9 o'clock.

Arthur was a manly boy and was well liked by all who knew him. He was born in Paradise, Lawrence township, on May 16, 1909. He is survived by his father and stepmother. He was a grandson of the late Emanuel Henchbarger.

The funeral occurred the following Wednesday, interment being made in Mount Peace cemetery beside his mother, who died with the flu in 1918.

AUGUST 14 TO 21ST. CHAUTAUQUA DATES FOR CLEARFIELD

Chautauqua is coming to Clearfield, August 14th, to 21st. Seven week days of refined entertainment, worth-while instruction and enjoyment for grown-ups and children alike. Arrange your vacation so that you will not miss a single session. The entertainers, lecturers and concert troupes, comprise men and companies of national and international renown.

Among these are Opie Reed, Dr. Norwood, Edmund Vance Cooke, Dr. R. Ford, scientist Hon. Charles J. Cole, Dunbar Quartette and Bell Ranges, and the Dunbar White Husars. The Shakespearean comedy, "I am a Shrew" and the prize Chautauqua play "Crossed Wires" will be given.

Chautauquas are "Ten Universities." It is an attempt in harmony with spirit of the age to give the opportunity to those who will never be able to enjoy university training, to get many of the very advantages that a great university gives to its students. The very best talent compatible with the wealth and interest manifested by the towns visited is procured. Men and educators of national and international reputation are employed in this work.

Any community which fails to provide recreation, cultural, entertainment and educational influences will stagnate and its young people will either engage in questionable and mani-

TWO RIDERS KILLED

Carl Hettager, of Dunsmuir, diamond drifter, who earned his living driving the Ford car which was wrecked on the Philadelphia-Clearfield road on Mapleton hill early on the morning of Thursday, July 19th, as a result of which two men lost their lives, will be called upon to answer three serious charges in the Clearfield county courts.

It is said that about midnight previous to the accident Hettager and party of four other men left Philadelphia in Hettager's Ford and traveled up into the Houtzdale country where a supply of moonshine and other taking generously thereof started on their return trip to Philadelphia.

The car left the road on the Mapleton hill, ran up a 16-foot embankment and toppled back into the ditch on the side of the road. Joseph Attorneys, Dunsmuir, was caught under the car and his life crushed out. "Big M. Loss, of Millersburg, was fractured skull and other injuries which resulted in his death at the Cottage State hospital at Philadelphia on Saturday morning last. Hettager received a broken leg and other injuries, while James A. Henson, of Johnstown, and Ray Snyder, of Millwood, suffered minor hurts in the wreck.

GET THE KIDNEY VACCINATED NOW FOR SCHOOL TERM

Harrisburg, July 24, (United Press)—Dr. Charles H. Minor, Secretary of Health, has taken measures to assure that no children are admitted to the public schools this fall who are not properly immunized against small pox, in accordance with the vaccination law of the state, it was announced today.

Boards of School Directors and school principals, who are liable to prosecution for failure to demand a certificate of successful vaccination has notified the various districts to "carefully and strictly" enforce this law.

Medical inspectors appointed for the new term have been advised by Dr. J. Erue McCrory, Director of the Bureau of Child Health, to carefully examine the scar of all pupils whose record does not contain confirmation of the previous examination that the vaccination was a success.

The Health Department asks for co-operation of the Parents to see that their children are successfully vaccinated before the opening day of school.

The method of procedure in case of necessity for revaccination is stated as follows:

"In cases where children have had two or more attempts at vaccination without producing a successful result, in order to be legally admitted to school, said children must be officially revaccinated by the official Board of Health physician in a city, borough or first class township, or in the rural districts by the County Medical Director, or one of his duly authorized deputies.

"These official vaccinations will be performed free of charge and a certificate issued which will admit children to school for the present school term whether the result is successful or not."

Clearfield people received them and treated them while they were in our town. Also the Park Association for their kindness and extended an invitation to the townspeople generally to come to the Park and enjoy the day with them.

whole of the story. According to information obtained by Dr. G. A. Ricketts here and others who have investigated the incident, little Veronica will be handicapped through life because her heroic spirit prompted her to rush to the rescue of a little playmate. Headless of her own danger she saved his life and made the fearful sacrifice.

Little Johnny Anderson, who lives in the same neighborhood as the Chierney girl, is aged 6, nearly as old as Veronica, but he did not know danger as she knew it because the girl had little brothers and sisters to look after as is likely to be the case in a family of numerous children, and there is certainly no indication of race prejudice in the Chierney home. The Anderson boy, unconscious of the danger, crawled under one of the big coal cars standing on a siding in the Osceola yard.

The Chierney girl happened to see him just as one of the yard engines pushed onto the siding to shift the cars farther up the track. The girl was about a hundred yards away from the boy at the time. There was no one near to call to, no one could stop the iron monster as it moved up toward the car under which her little playmate sat. Swiftly she ran toward the boy.

It was a race between the little legs and the big steam engine. The girl won—and lost. She reached the littleboy in time to push him out from under the car from the side opposite her own. He escaped unhurt. But as she was getting back to safety on her own side of the car the engine bumped it and her little hands, resting on the rail to give herself a final shove, were caught by the wheels and crushed. She saved her playmate's life, but she will be seriously crippled all her days.

There are organizations and fund-for the rewarding of those who bravely endanger their own lives to save others. Surely little Veronica Chierney, who possesses little more than a heroic soul, deserves to be classed among the very brave and it ought to be some one's duty to see to it that she does not go through life with such a terrible handicap without the recognition that is due and which may mean so much to her and her parents who are not in a position to give her any training or schooling to aid her.

Persistent Deceit

occupied the back of the school clock at McHelders, England and no attempt at removing them has been successful. A resident of that town the swarm had been thought destroyed some years ago and the entrance the bees had made was cemented up, but each year they have returned, and they even bore a new hole through the cement.

it their official ok because of defects in the roadbed. The viewers object-to the roadbed construction, it being the contention that the roadway is low in the center and high on the sides, when just the reverse should be true, and they also find fault with the clearing and pointing of the abutthe court, filed Tuesday, they ask that two layers of asphalt with two covers

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

The death of Senator William P. Dillingham of Vermont removes from the Senate rolls the last octogenarian. And on March 4, when Congress adjourned there were three!

Senator Page, also of Vermont, who was 80 last January, retired on that date.

Kent Nelson of Minnesota, three weeks younger than Page, died in May on his way from Washington to his home.

And Dillingham, midway to his 80th year, died early in July.

Removal of these octogenarians from the Senate leaves Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, now one month past 70, the oldest member. Next comes LaBaron Celt of Rhode Island, 77; then Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, a youngster of 73, third. Lodge of Massachusetts, three months younger than Cummins, comes fourth.

Lightning recently killed 11 Americans in 24 hours. In the same time, the heat ended the lives of 12. Still, all of us are afraid of lightning, while few fear heat. Lightning has the better stage setting, and most of us are easily swayed by the theatrical.

Danger and fear affect us in peculiar ways. The most dangerous thing in the world is the slipping ladder. More accidents result from it than from any other cause. Repeatedly we have campaigns for more care in the matter of autos and fires. But did you ever hear of a safety first campaign in the use of ladders?

The most terrible force in nature—lightning—destroys $12,000,000 worth of property a year, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters. This, however, is less than a fifth as much as the yearly fire loss in dwellings, not to mention destruction by fire outside our homes.

Lightning is not preventable, the lightning rods are of great value in protecting us against it. Yet we fear lightning, have deep respect for it. On the other hand, we have only a surface fear of fire, most of which are preventable.

Fear is an excellent emotion, but we rarely vent it in the right direction.

Our "wet" friends are disposed to throw verbal brickbats at Governor Pinchot as the most arrogant, dyed-in-the-wool "dry" to be found any place out of doors, but they are far from the truth as a resume of prohibition laws recently passed by the legislatures of fourteen Mississippi Valley states demonstrates that the Anti-Saloon League is not content in the Middle West with the Volstead variety of enforcement. Nothing short of legal authority for the complete eradication of alcohol from the scheme of things seems to satisfy the lobbyists and lawmakers who reside west of the Appalachians and east of the Rockies.

Iowa's legislators, now on their way home after enacting seven new enforcement statutes, declare illegal the possession of materials with which to make liquor and have extended the search-and-seizure clause to apply to such materials. In Minnesota it is illegal to possess not only the materials but also to possess any formula, recipe or directions or "any apparatus, implements, machine or device, jugs and other containers, used in the manufacture or storing of liquor." Nebraska holds it to be "prima facie evidence of guilt when any person has illicit liquor in a private dwelling, or when he breaks bottles or containers or throws them away or pours out the contents when about to be arrested."

These laws have been passed because it has been found impossible to stamp out fermentation through the operation of statutes modeled on the Volstead act.

The average person seems to have no idea what to do in a case of drowning or near drowning and as a result of this ignorance or lack of information many people rescued from a watery grave are allowed to die after being taken out of the water because none of those present knew what to do toward resuscitating them. In the case of the recent drowning of four persons at Bower, we have heard it said that at least one of the men was yet alive when brought out of the water, yet was allowed to die because those engaged in the rescue work while extremely willing and anxious to defeat death did not know just what to do under the circumstances, even though they did do everything they knew. For the purpose of general information, and in the hope that such information may be the means of saving a life some time, we give herewith a simple, though demonstrated to be effective, way to act with a drowning person when taken out of the water:—

In all cases of drowning the tongue of the patient falls back into the throat, thereby closing the air passages and the throat. The first thing to do then is to reach into the patient's mouth and pull the tongue out. Then lay the patient on his stomach, placing his mouth at the crook of the arm at the elbow. Kneel astride the victim and placing your hands on his sides at the lower end of the ribs lean forward, this action compressing the body forces the water out of the lungs by producing artificial respiration. When the lungs have been compressed release the pressure and allow the chest walls to spring back. Repeat this action from six to eight times per minute and if the tongue is allowed to drop back into the throat the water will soon be expelled from the lungs and many times the victim restored to consciousness and life.

PLAYGROUND NEWS

The playground attendance continues to stack up satisfactorily, the figure for the last week being 2275 making a total for the first four weeks 7769. Figures tell only part of the story for in some cases a small group may be gaining more in fundamental ways than a much larger number but after all the children do not come unless there is some definite thing to come for.

The various obstacles in the path of the base ball game are giving way. Teams are going back and forth from playground to playground, leaping a thing or two besides base ball. The scheduled game between Reedsville diamond with Witmer still in the lead. The score was much closer than the first game and both sides showed the best kind of sportsman-ship. Special credit is due Manager Warner of the Reedsville team for getting his men into shape and to the handfull who stuck to the job for the credit of the home ground. The Witmer team played excellent ball last summer though the loss of the home diamond upset things badly at the first of the season.

East End has had a hard time getting into the game due to the fact that many of their players were at work at the particular time when boys on the grounds are free. A pick-up team from West Side went over to the Eleventh Street ground Friday and the first game was played—score going to East End. The latter went to Reedsville Monday so the game should be well on the go from now on.

Marble.

Marble is a product of marine sediments and volcanic fires. It is laid down on the sea bottom as shell heaps, which gradually turn into chalk. If the strata should be deeply buried in the rocks, the intense heat of the earth causes chemical elements to rearrange themselves so that they crystallize into marble. Various impurities in the chalk give the marble its varied colors.

HORSESHOE NEWS

East End has decided that it has its own boy wonder in the horseshoe line—all due respects to the 15-year-old national champ. In his game last night with Lawrence Ball, Jim Lischcrill showed that he certainly is a corner and bids fair to clean out most of the veterans if he keeps the pace he has set so far. In the other singles match, Hudson beat Shugarts 5 to 19, with eleven ringers and a double to four.

Keystone Ice Cream Robinson and Shaw, East End, came into the following results:

Keystone 21 21
Robinson and Shaw 15 10
Bender and Sheppe, a new mass End combination, played Reed and Schiefer of Second Ward:—
Bender and Sheppe 21 21
Reed and Schiefer 10 12

The winners of the above played one game, Keystone beating them 21 to 9, ringers 5 to 1.

In regard to the game with Corry, word has been received that they expect to be here in time to begin pitching at 3 p. m. Some work will have to be put in on the machine shop courts on Reed street before they will be fit to take care of an audience or accommodate such distinguished visitors, Friday evening there will be a turnout to put in an extra court or two and put things in order for the game.

Ingenuity.

One of the most exciting occupations is that in which boys play on a grating when a coin drops through a grating in the sidewalk. A long stick is found first. Someone provides a end of chewing gum, which is stuck on the end of the stick. Then one of the boys guides the gum to the coin and draws it forth, while the rest of the gang coaches and cringes. —C. CAN YOU DOUBT IT?

When the Proof Can Be So Easily Investigated.

When so many grateful citizens of Clearfield testify to benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, can you doubt the evidence? The proof is not far away—it is almost at your door. Read what a resident of Clearfield says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you demand more convincing testimony? Ask your neighbor!

F. K. Waple, 422 W. Front St., Clearfield, says: "I was troubled with a severe pain in the small of my back which caused a lot of distress. I also had severe headaches and a lame and tired leg all over. I purchased a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me a lot of good from the start. Two boxes of this medicine fixed me up in fine shape. Since then, when I have had an attack of that kind, I have used Doan's and have always brought good results."

Those Altoona people who picnicked in Clearfield today think that Clearfield people are just the kind of folks that ought to make up the world. And isn't it true? What better thing could a town do to show its heart is in the right place than furnish cars to carry the picnickers back and forth to the trains?

Those Altoonans are just finding out what a lot of people already know. That is why Clearfield is growing. That is why Clearfield will continue to grow.

Any time any of the good people who visit us want to partake of such hospitality daily, drink pure water, have good neighbors and have their children enjoy the benefits of the best schools in the state, they can find all of these things in Clearfield.

Come again, stay longer.

Such examples of self-sacrifice and devotion to friend and playmate as shown by young Carroll and little Miss Chierney, both of the Osceola region, should be rewarded. Young Carroll braved the dangers of a deadly gas to rescue a companion from an old abandoned well. The little lady ran in front of a moving coal car to push a playmate out of danger and lost seven fingers in the effort.

How is it to be done? Cannot the people of that region do something to show the high regard they hold for such traits in mere children and at the same time set a worthy example to others?

Mr. Edward Bok, as editor of the Ladies' Home Journal and closely allied with the Curtis publications, saw great hope in the League of Nations. When he held that view the League was merely an ideal conception. Since then it has become political. Much of the altruism that pervaded the minds of its supporters melted away when it became necessary to get down to brass tacks. Mr. Bok now offers $50,000 in cash for a mere suggestion that will aid in maintaining peace in the world among nations, saying the League cannot perform the needed service because it is has become political. Thus still another champion of the League sees its deficiencies.

GOING TO DO OUR WALKING IN THE DAY TIME

While London, of Woodland and a New York Central telegrapher at the Clearfield Creek Junction, would take a trip of moonshine if he was swimming in it, but regardless of this fact and the further fact that he is mentally well balanced, he certainly had the snakes after him Tuesday night.

Longin, as is his wont, was walking to his work last night, traveling via Barrett and down the path to the old Brett farm over the fence to the New York Central tracks on the hill beyond. About 11 o'clock and while about half way between the State road and the railroad tracks he heard the whirr of a rattlesnake. Not being sure of the location of the snake in the dark, he stopped stock still and as the rattling increased pulled an electric flash light from his pocket and soon "spotted" a big yellow rattler coiled in the path just a few steps ahead of him. Raising a pistol he carried with him for protection Longin took careful aim and shot and killed the snake. When the noise of the shot had subsided and the snake was writhing in his death agonies, Longin heard another rattling coming behind him and swinging his light about soon focused it on a second rattler, which he also dispatched with a couple of well directed shots from his gun.

Longin thought of snakes during his trick and when returning home this morning had his eye peeled for snakes and before reaching the State road had shot and killed a 3-foot copperhead and a five foot black snake, and this is one snake story that is all true.

TRINITY CHURCH ITEMS

In the absence of Doctor Jacobs the prayer meeting on Wednesday evening will be under the direction of Bible Class No. 16. Mr. Samuel Keit Davis, a Clearfield visitor and a prominent member of the California Baptist church will address the meeting. The music will be under the direction of Hon. Joseph Phillips. All members of this Bible Class are earnestly urged to be present and bring their friends with them.

MODERN DAIRY MAID TO AID COUNTY AGENT HUSBAND

State College, Pa., July 24 — If reports received here today are true, farmers of Clinton County should benefit by the marriage of their farm agent, John B. McColl, Jr., whose wedding took place in Philadelphia last week. This is because the bride, formerly Miss Emily Ashton Gray was the first girl to ever complete the straight dairy course at the Pennsylvania State College school of agriculture.

The wedding was a culmination of a college romance, both the principals having been graduated from Penn State in June, 1922. During her final year, Miss Gray was awarded the Sharpless scholarship of $500 for proficiency in dairy husbandry work at the college, a rare honor, and since graduation she has continued to specialize in the work.

Perhaps in his future tours of Clinton County farms, County agent McColl will be ably assisted along dairy lines by his "dairy maid" bride.

Luxurious "Tubbing."

Ancient bathings of kings had one pair of steps for the rulers to mount the platform and enter the tub and several smaller flights of stairs at each end for attendants to carry up vases of scented water which they would throw on their master.

FORD PRODUCTION IS STILL GREATER THAN HERETOFORE

Detroit, Mich., July 25.—A total of 1,050,185 automotive products were built by the various divisions of the Ford Motor Company during the first six months of the present year, according to figures just compiled.

The output for the half year was as follows:

Ford cars and trucks, domestic and foreign, 941,245; Canada, 46,871; Fordson tractors, 58,557, and Lincoln cars, 3,512.

A new monthly record for production was established by the domestic assembly plants in June with a total of 175,040 Ford cars and trucks, exceeding the output of May by nearly 5,000.

New production marks have been set up almost daily since January but there hasn't been a time when manufacture even approximated the demand.

With production increasing in an endeavor to meet the demand, it is expected that the company will finish the year with a total of approximately 1,800,000 Ford cars and trucks for domestic use alone.

This is the opinion expressed by officials in view of the present prosperous conditions, the increasing number of orders and the outlook for ever better times prevailing during the coming months.

In bringing up production, efforts all along have been devoted to building better. As a result many improvements have been made and though Ford cars and trucks are day at the lowest price level in the history of the company they are of higher quality and present a greater value to the purchaser than ever before.

The demand for Ford trucks is particularly high since it reflects the attitude of business men, as well as farmers toward expansion and greater efficiency. Sales of Ford trucks are more than double those of last year, which indicates the extent of the general prosperity.

For months Ford dealers have had no stocks on hand, buyers absorbing the cars and trucks as rapidly as they are turned out of assembly plants. With this condition continuing production is certain to remain at capacity to aid dealers in making deliveries as quickly as possible.—(Adv.)

FUNERAL OF CHARLES GLASS

The funeral of the late Charles Glass will be held from the home of Mrs. Clara Tate, corner of South Fourth and Margaretta streets, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The remains will arrive in Clearfield or the New York Central train due here at 6:26 this evening.

Painting Windows.

An effective and cheap method of darkening windows is to stipple them by means of a brush with white lead and turpentine, applied lightly or thickly as desired. Red lead could be used where a tint is preferred, or other colors could be obtained by mixing the pigment of the desired shade with the white lead. This preparation can easily be removed.

For White Furniture.

White furniture may be cleaned by dissolving baking soda in warm water and applying the solution to the furniture with a soft cloth, rubbing with a dry one afterward. Finger marks and dirt are easily removed in this simple way. A teaspoon to a pint of water.

FIREMEN MAKE STATEMENT

The Clearfield Fire Department wishes to inform the public that owing to several unforeseen incidents many of the articles which were to have been given away at the Firemen's Bazaar held at the Driving Park during the last week of May, could not be disposed of.

It will be remembered that in the midst of the Bazaar week occurred the severe forest fires on the mountains north of town which took nearly all the firemen and a great many other people out of town.

This and some other circumstances not anticipated greatly impeded carrying on the bazaar as originally planned.

Such articles as still remain in the hands of the firemen will positively be disposed of at the District Convention on Aug. 16. All persons having any interest in any such articles will be given a square deal by the firemen who will make use of every means to see that everything is disposed of according to the original plan.

On a number of the articles, particularly the Ford car, a sufficient sum of money has not as yet been realized to cover the cost of them.

The firemen will therefore solicit among their friends in the hope of realizing enough money to pay the present deficit on these articles and also hope that they may realize some profit from them since the funds are badly needed now.

The firemen do not intend to solicit any donations of money to carry on the District Convention, feeling that a successful disposition of the articles still on hand will furnish the necessary funds, so if a fireman approaches you to solicit an interest in any of these articles go the limit of your ability to help them out.

For the Olliecloth.

Olliecloth should be washed with warm water, to which a little starch (made with boiling water) has been added. Soap should on no account be used.

Progress Editorial For Women

Easy To Lose

By Florence Davies.

So many things are easy to lose Canadian Nickles, invisible hair pins, telephone numbers, the address of that last good laundress—to say nothing of books that you lend and umbrellas that you borrow.

But there is something easier to lose than any of these, and that is a child.

Oh no, not in the flesh. Sometimes on a busy day when the youngsters seem to be under foot every minute we almost wish we could lose them just for half hour. But it isn't that kind of lost child that matters. For most lost youngsters get rounded up by the police or the kind grocer at the corner, who lugs them home.

The little lost boys and girls who really matter are the ones who stay right at home in their bodies but wander off from you in their minds and hearts. They may like you fairly well, but they don't trust you, at least they don't take a chance on letting you into the secret places of their hearts.

This is a more serious kind of losing than the village police reports. Sooner or later he will find the runaway and bring him struggling home. But you can't send a policeman out looking for his heart.

Samuel Merwin, writing in one of the months' magazines has spent a lot of time studying children, his own, and he knows. He doesn't believe in lying to children. He doesn't think it does much good to lie to children, anyhow. For, he says, "I do not believe that you can deceive a child, but you can lose him."

"Most of the parents I observe" he explains, "do lie to their children, sometimes in the name of discipline, at other times to avoid difficult explanations, often merely to save themselves inconvenience. They lie carelessly, because there isn't time to answer questions fully."

And that, this author points out, is one of the very best ways to lose children, to lose their confidence and their trust. For children have a way of knowing when you are telling them the truth and once they find out that you have lied to them your day is done.

But it takes time to tell a child the truth, to give him valid reasons for your rulings, to make him understand the cans and can'ts of things, the things that pay and the things that don't pay, that takes time.

But it takes more time to get a child back once you've lost him than it does to keep him by this kind of patience. And besides there's a big chance of succeeding by one plan, and a mighty slim one with the other. Once lost, nothing is harder to find again than a child's confidence.

GEO. I. THURSTON

New York Central Railroad as to the need for a additional through route between New York and the Middle West, embracing the Central Railroad of New Jersey, and part of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway. This creates the impression that no such route is no existence. This is correct. There is, and for many years past has been, an established through route from New York via Haverhill, the point of connection between the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Philadelphia and Reading Railway thence via the latter to Newberry Junction, the point of connection with the New York Central Railroad, and thence westward over that line via Clearfield and Ashland.

"All that is necessary to utilize the Haverhill-Newberry Junction-Clearfield route is to forward the freight through. With the physical facilities existing and the joint through rates already established, the New York Central Railroad is, of course, in position to utilize this route just as effectively as would be the case if the entire through route were owned and operated by it. This route, with all the advantages pointed out by the New York Central, is not utilized to anything like its capacity.

"Having made clear the fact that the additional route sought by the New York Central Railroad is already in existence, and open for all who wish to use it, it should be pointed out that the plan of the New York Central Railroad, predicated on the alleged need for the Clearfield route, is a Terminal Discrimination.

"At the present time, as the shipping public of Philadelphia, New York and the country generally well knows, these terminals, like the terminals of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, have been kept open without preference or discrimination for all trunk line connections.

"It would be a great disadvantage not only to the Philadelphia and Reading and its shippers, but to the trunk line serving the Atlantic seaboard and to the entire shipping public, to have the New York Central Railroad of New Jersey in the possession of the New York Central Railroad, thus to a great extent limiting their availability for other lines.

"It will readily be seen from the foregoing that with the Clearfield route already in existence and open for the shipping public to any extent needed to handle traffic between New York and the Middle West, there is no adequate reason for turning over to the New York Central Railroad the Central Railroad of New Jersey with its very valuable terminals at New York and the northern section of the Reading Railroad.

"With the persistent and determined effort of the New York Central Railroad to secure the Central Railroad of New Jersey and its vitally important New York terminals, and the proposal of the Interstate Commerce Commission to consolidate with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad both the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, the shipping interests of Philadelphia richly appreciate the importance of having both the Central Railroad of New Jersey terminals at New York and the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad terminals at Philadelphia kept open for all trunk line connections and the entire shipping public.

"This situation can best be maintained and perpetuated by the consolidation of the Reading and the Jersey Central railroads."

Naturally Philadelphia is much exercised over the proposal of President H. H. H. of the N. Y. C. and the P. R. and expresses their views in the following editorial:

SAVE THE READING!

When the New York Central Railroad casts greedy eyes upon the Reading Railway system and its New Jersey Central connection, it and all New York are apparently acting on the principle that "to him that hath shall be given and from him that hath not shall be taken that which he hath." Philadelphia commercial and industrial interests have hardly recovered from the agitation caused by Prof. Ruggley's plan—laid before the Interstate Commerce Commission—for the incorporation of the Reading-Jersey Central with the Baltimore and Ohio than the New York Central comes along with its proposal to utilize parts of the Reading and Jersey Central lines for the creation of a sixth trunk line from the West entering New York.

That Philadelphia should resist to the limit of its strength any such attempt to deprive it of even that element of competitive service which the Reading and its connections afford goes without saying. We have suffered far too long already from the status practically allotted to us of a way station for the trunk lines having terminal at New York, and are in no mind to consent to a still further

HOW SHARPER THAN A SERPENT'S TOOTH?

Sun's Rays Generate Power.

The sun's rays are used to generate the power in a miniature engine recently demonstrated successfully in New York. A parabolic copper mirror focused the rays on a test tube full of water making sufficient steam to work the engine.

Reverseness.

One of the hard things to understand is how the fellow who used to ride to work on a street car—and got there on time—now seems to think he has to drive past all the street cars in town to get down to work at the same hour.

Not Winners.

"What," queried the very young man, "do you think of the men who honestly tell us of our faults?" "Oh," replied the sage, "they usually mean well, but always run behind their ticket at the polls."

New Source of Radium.

Pursuant to a new radium-bearing mineral found in the Belgian Congo, was described in an address by the Belgian Professor Schoof, who told of success in extracting radium from the mineral at an Antwerp laboratory.

Fiber Sponge.

The Loofah sponge, now in general use, is made from the network of fiber from the inside of the gourd, probably one of the oldest vessels known to man. Japan furnishes the best sponges of this kind. The fiber used in the Loofah sponge is dried thoroughly, after which it becomes wholesome and crisp.

Cold Siberian Rivers.

Several of the Siberian rivers flow over beds of cold fire.

Give Your Eyes A Chance

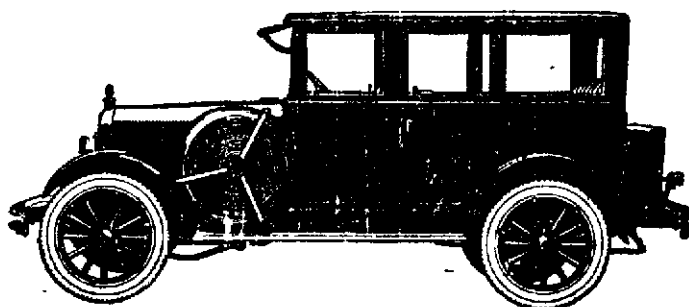

They are as willing to work for you as any other of your senses. They will stand more abuse than any of your other senses. But is it wise? Why not let me examine your eyes and fit glasses that will relieve any strain?

WATCH AND CLOCK REPAIRING

There's a real art in doing a repair job on a watch or clock. Your watch may stop and you may be fairly sure what is wrong, but when we come to look into the timepiece, we may find something else wrong. We go ahead and put the timepiece in the shape into which it should be put and when we return it to you, you may be assured that it will be working in fine shape.

Bring in that watch or clock with which you have been having so much trouble. We will return it to you running as sweetly as it should keep correct time.

BABIES BORN AT SEA, EN ROUTE TO U. S., AMERICANS
New York July 25--Babies born at sea, on ship

Curwensville's Own Column

Hon. Chas. E. Patton, one of the prominent members of Chester county, and Joseph H. Patton, only son of the late Hon. A. K. Patton by a daughter, attended the funeral of the late H. D. Nescope Monday.

Rev. M. Lantz, a former pastor of the M. E. church in this place, now residing in Altoona, was in Curwensville Monday attending the funeral of the late H. D. Nescope. Mr. Lantz is always one of a warm welcome to Curwensville people, he being such a genial fellow and everybody is sure to have a pleasant time when he is here. He is a very popular man and is always a welcome guest at the home of his friends.

The Crescent Refractories company met with another loss last Wednesday night by the destruction of a saw mill on the Adam Way lands situated on the Chestnut Ridge. A considerable lumber stock was burned.

Miller's Lake, claiming Bridgeport as his abiding place, informed us some people that Monday was an unusually cold morning for this season of the year. At his place about six o'clock a. m. the thermometer registered 38 degrees, or an equivalent to six points above frost.

Mrs. Francis Barnes, of Phillipsburg, was in Curwensville Monday accompanied by her sister Mrs. M. Lantz.

Mr. Elmer Fink, of Phillipsburg, and Mr. Frank Moore of Kelly town were guests in the home of Mrs. Samuel W. Smith Monday.

Miss Eva Bernal, of Altoona, was a visitor at the home of her aunt Mrs. Chas. Miller, South Side, Sunday and Monday.

Joe Hartill and Miss Esther Twigg drove over a Sandy Ridge Sunday and partook of a real duck dinner.

Miss Helen Mordue has returned to her Curwensville home after spending the week end with W. W. Millport relatives.

The storm showed in shaking off dirt from the State Highway close to the M. J. Kelly home. A great many people had that way to watch the monster shovel move more dirt at one clip than ten men could do with a hand shovel. Many might never see an animal like that before and it is of some curiosity to them.

The funeral of Artie Palmer was held Monday forenoon from the Lutheran church.

It is estimated, roughly of course, that there were in the neighborhood of two hundred people out at the Lee West-Side last Sabbath. Cars kept coming and going all day long and the who was out at the Bliger rocks Sunday tells us that the woods was full of people and those who were out for recreation.

H. H. C. and wife and daughter, of the M. J. Kelly home, departed for the home of their week's visit with their daughter, Mrs. George Kelly, South Side, Sunday.

There was still in a little hemlock timber left somewhere in Pennsylvania as a number of red and white loads of hemlock bark are arriving at the Pennsylvania Hile and Lumber company's plant daily. There have been some ten or twelve car loads on the siding. It does not come a very great amount of hemlock bark at this late date to make burning liquor as the larger percentage of that liquid is distilled from hemlock bark, which makes a greater tanning property than the all original hemlock and oak bark. The juice from hemlock is used more to give color to the hide than for tanning purposes.

and by the men, work at the Crescent brick plant is being shortened to five days a week. Unless business brightens up considerably soon, another cut is sure to follow along labor lines.

Miss Mary Wright was removed from her home on South Filbert street yesterday morning to Clearfield Hospital where she will receive medical treatment during the further progress of her illness.

Mrs. Nell Connors, of Altoona, is a visitor in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lantz Strickland on North Filbert street.

The funeral of the little Clark Bennett child was held from the home of True Landon yesterday afternoon. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Squire James Caldwell came over from Tyrone Monday and will spend the balance of the week with relatives in Curwensville and vicinity.

A gathering of members of the Curwensville C. T. U. was held in Curwensville yesterday afternoon.

George Fleming, the regular sexton of Oak Hill cemetery, has so far recovered from a recent illness as to be able to be about on the porch of his Bloomington avenue home. Since his illness the work at the cemetery has been under the supervision of his son Harry Fleming.

Manager John Norris is having the interior of the Opera House and other conveniences added for the benefit of the patrons of that show house.

According to an item published in the Haffman Journal a few weeks ago that paper stated among other news items which occurred in the year 1900, "Curwensville had a population of almost 2000. We refer the Journal to Smul's hand book printed in that year."

Persons who travel across the upper Anderson Creek bridge leading to Anderson street and up along the creek, claim that the structure has become unsafe for vehicle and pedestrian travel. That may be all true enough, as we have heard that complaint before, yet every day those huge brick yard coal trucks and many other automobiles cross and recross that structure. It might be well, however, to thoroughly investigate the present condition of that bridge before any fatal or otherwise accident occurs. You know that "a stitch in time oftentimes saves nine" and then some.

OHIO WETS AND DRY TO RENEW BATTLE

Columbus, O., July 24. (U. P.)—Ohio, cradle of prohibition, is to witness another battle over the wet and dry issue.

Forces of the American Anti-Saloon League and the Organization Against Prohibition are maneuvering for another spectacular clash.

The "drys" have laid plans—with $2,500,000 backing—to fight off any attempts of this or any other state to repeal its prohibition enforcement code. Their goal is to make Ohio a shining example of dryness for the whole country.

The "wets," following the recent Anti-Saloon League was counted at Westerville, announced the first step in the counter-attack would be moving their headquarters to Columbus, a more strategic point, they believe, than Toledo.

"It will be fine business," said C. C. Hinkley, "if we can announce inroads on the dry cause right here in the home state of the Anti-Saloon League." Hinkley is general manager of the Organization Against Prohibition.

As soon as the organization's headquarters is well established here, the work will begin in earnest, said Hinkley. "We are going to hold the 180,000 dry votes we had in the election last fall and we're going to swell that number to a substantial wet majority."

Like their "enemy dry," Hinkley's men plan to do their missionary work in the congressional districts.

"Dry" leaders, declaring they are more amused than frightened by the activities of the opposition, point out that every possible indication of the trend in Ohio since she first went dry has been that she is growing drier every year.

It is true that there is not the sparkling enthusiasm for battle among the "wets" of the electorate that has marked other conflicts on this issue.

Most Ohioans seem reconciled to a town caller on Wednesday.

Mrs. Martin Romanek of Kelly town called on her parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bullen on Friday.

Mrs. E. Gardner of Bauman was a caller in town on Friday evening.

Mrs. Frank Heverly of Tyrone called on friends in town on Thursday.

Charley Haines of Madera was a Smoke Run caller on Friday.

Ste Manjack took a load of M. F. Sunday-school young people to Curwensville to attend the S. S. Field day on Thursday.

Mrs. Eli Pritchard and daughter of Amersville were callers in town on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gatchouse of Johnstown called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Melson on Tuesday.

Mrs. Sadie Kniff of Houtzdale spent Tuesday with her mother Mrs. Jack Melson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bailey and two children spent Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Elsie Dowling near Carnwath.

"dry" future insofar as the law is concerned and few persons will deny that the work of the prohibition agents has been effectual.

There was great promise in the work of the Organization Against Prohibition before the election last fall. People were thinking there might be something to the talk of wine and beer coming back in the state. But then the election came and the "damps" were defeated overwhelmingly. Now there doesn't seem to be so much of that old-time confidence in the "wet" ranks.

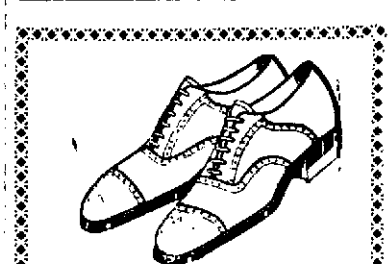

Election time, however, may bring new life to the campaigners and new enthusiasm to the voters.

To Relieve Canaries of Vermin. Canary birds are often covered with vermin. They may be relieved of them by placing a clean white cloth over their cage at night. In the morning the cloth will be covered with minute red spots so small that they can hardly be seen with the naked eye. These are the parasites, a source of great annoyance to the birds.

Mean Man. "I hear that Laura's engagement to the young minister is off." "Why, yes, she told me. He was horribly jealous and so unfair." "In what way was he unfair?" "Every time she would make an engagement to go motoring with some other man he would pray for rain."

Stagnant Spots in Ocean. The Sargasso sea is almost the resting center of the whirl of the ocean currents in the north Atlantic. The seaweed comes from distant shores, where it has been wrenched off by the force of the currents. There are four other great weed-bampered areas of little motion beside the Sargasso sea.

Most of the husky kiddies that you see running around the streets and the playgrounds of this city—those who are "bottle raised"—have been fed our milk in modified form at first and then full strength. They have come along as a husky baby should and have come into their early childhood as strong and lively as their parents would like them to be.

There is, in our milk, all the food values that should be there and everything that is needed for the proper growth of the child, both mentally and physically.

If you are having trouble with your baby's feed, have your physician prescribe and then use our milk to fill out the diet plan.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE BEEKEEPERS' ASSOCIATION PICNIC

Harrisburg, Pa., July 23, 1923.—The summer picnic of the Pennsylvania State Beekeepers' Association will be held August 1, 1923, at the home apiaries of Hill Bros., near Honesdale, Pa.

The big feature of the picnic will be the inspection of the large commercial apiaries of Hill Bros. demonstrations and a few addresses by prominent practical beekeepers. A profitable time is assured. Every beekeeper in northeastern Pennsylvania is invited not only to come himself but to bring his family. The golf roads and the auto permit coming.

The Ladies Aid will serve dinner to those who desire it at fifty cents per plate.

P. & R. PRESIDENT STRONGLY OPPOSES N. Y. C. PROPOSITION

Philadelphia to Fight
Strenuously Against
Smith Proposal Anent
5th Great Trunk Line.

THEIR POSITION

Philadelphia, July 24.—Agnew T. Dice, president of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, yesterday joined in the protest of local business interests against the plan of the New York Central Railroad for a fifth great through route between New York and the Middle West.

The New York Central seeks to establish the through connection by taking over the Central Railroad of New Jersey, with valuable New York terminals, and the northern part of the Reading system.

Mr. Dice points out in a formal statement that the contemplated route is actually available at the present time. The New York Central or any other road could make use of it he explains, and derive the same results as though it owned the trackage.

Should the New York Central come into possession of the New York terminals of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, the shipping interests not only of Philadelphia but elsewhere would suffer, Mr. Dice explains. Those terminals now are kept open without preference or discrimination for all trunk line connections and such would not be the case were the New York Central to control them.

Dice points out objections. Mr. Dice's statement follows: "The morning press contained an article setting forth the views of the

SNYDER THROWS DOWN GAUNTLET TO MR. PINCHOT

Harrisburg, Pa., July 25.—The ultimatum of State Treasurer Snyder was delivered to Governor Pinchot at Milford today, where the Executive Board held a council of war on the impending suit to test the constitutionality of the administrative code.

In a letter to Attorney General Woodruff, who was summoned to the Governor's home last night, Snyder made plain, it became known today, that he does not intend to compromise on the issue he has raised but will see his action in holding up the pay rolls through to the finish.

Snyder stated today he had decided to hold up the pay rolls of the Department of Property and Supplies on August 1st, as a result of a question in connection with the purchasing power vested in this Department, which he contends is contrary to the expressed language of the constitution.

SEEK TO IMPROVE

The N. Y. C. crossing at the Clearfield creek bridge has been receiving a good deal of attention lately; and to help make this a less dangerous place, the Commercial Club has called the attention of Mr. Barrow of the N. Y. C. to an embankment that should be eliminated. This will allow drivers going down to the crossing to see a train a greater distance away than is now possible and give them an opportunity to get their cars stopped before reaching the crossing. Mr. Barrow said he would see that this is done shortly and in addition stated that an electric flash signal is to be placed at the crossing which will operate when trains are approaching the crossing.

These two measures when finished it is hoped, reduce or eliminate future accidents at this point.

Rush Of Immigrants To U. S. Begins Anew With New Aug. Quota Period

London, July 25.—The rush of immigrants to the United States continues.

12,000 are expected to sail from Southampton alone this week in order to take advantage of the new quota which will open slightly the new world gateway on the first of August.

The Tyrrhenia sails with 1,100 third class passengers and 400 second class. Many of the latter occupying first class cabins because of overcrowding.

The Majestic's sailing has been postponed from Wednesday to Thursday in order that the vessel may reach New York August 1st.

Reservations have been booked for 2,600 of whom 1,300 are third class passengers.

Scotland is sending out many immigrants. 12,000 Scots went to the United States and Canada this month.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS IN POLITICS AND IS USELESS, SAYS BOK

Camden, N. J., July 25.—International peace must be taken out of politics, Edwin E. Bok, Philadelphia publisher declared here today explaining his offer of $100,000 for the best practical plan for establishing permanent world tranquility.

"The League of Nations is in politics, the purpose of the award is exactly opposite and leaves the question out of politics," Bok told the United Press in an exclusive interview.

"The award has nothing whatever to do with the covenant of the League or the World Court."

Bok is offering $50,000 for the best peace suggestion. Upon decision of impartial judges, he will pay $50,000 more if action is taken on the proposal by the United States Senate.

"The award," continued Mr. Bok "is a serious offer to get somewhere with an acute problem. The whole idea has been carefully thought out for months. Men and women connected with it would not have affiliated with the Policy Committee of the award if it were propaganda. It's strength lies in the fact that it is independent, non-political and non-commercial. Otherwise, it would not be worth the effort."

POST OFFICE SAFE BLOWED
AT PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Pa., July 25.—Safe breakers escaped with $1,500 in cash and stamps early today when they forced the safe of a post office sub-station on Market street.

BRISBIN MOONSHINER, FATHER OF SIX, GETS SENTENCE INCREASED 13 MONTHS WHEN HE PLAYS THE "SHEIK" GAME

David Phillips, of Brishbin and Decatur township, who was twice caught in the "dry" net as a liquor law violator, will have a chance to think things over seriously during the next 15 months.

Upon Phillips' second arrest he had his friend Jim Murray of Pottsville bail him for his appearance at court. He appeared all right and entered a plea of guilty but as he had brought his wife and five or six children to court along, he asked and was allowed to take the family home, agreeing to return the following day and serve his sentence of two months. He failed to keep his promise and the next heard of the gray and festive moonshiner he was over at Altoona making fast and furious love to a Blair county young lady. The Sanborn sheik is a rapid worker where the ladies are concerned and soon had the young lady believing he was going to marry her. Phillips was located at Hollidaysburg a couple of weeks ago and was brought to jail by the state police.

LITTLE GIRL LOSES SEVEN FINGERS IN HEROIC ACTION

Had Them Cut off When
She Bravely Jumped In Front of Moving Car to Save Little Playmate.

ONLY 7 YEARS OLD

Oscola Mills, July 24.—Down at the Cottage State hospital at Philadelphia there is a little girl patient who looks wonderingly at her bandaged hands, seemingly perplexed that they must be bundled up as they are. She wants to get back to her mama and papa and her brothers and sisters, and she wants to play again with the children of the neighborhood, with the little boy who figured in the tragic accident which resulted in her admission to the hospital. The childish mind has not yet grasped the fact that her hands, now mercifully hidden from her bright eyes, are nearly useless, that they will never again be of much service to her to either work or play.

The record at the hospital shows the child is Veronica Chierney, aged 7 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Chierney of Newton, Rush township, the little settlement composed mostly of employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and just across the Moshannon creek from here on the Centre side of the boundary line. She was admitted to the hospital on July 9, with both hands crushed by the wheels of a railroad car. Portions of four fingers on the left hand and three on the right hand had to be amputated at the joints.

But the hospital record is not the

INDICTMENTS MADE AGAINST MAXWELL ARE ALL DISMISSED

New York, July 28.—The "poison pen" indictments brought against George Maxwell, president of the Society of Authors, Composers and Publishers, charging him with slandering wealthy society women of New York were dismissed today.

Judge John F. McIntyre and the general sessions court ruled there was not sufficient evidence to hold Maxwell in the case which has mystified and startled society.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Foster Wood will entertain at Crystal Springs Camp this evening in honor of their guests Captain and Mrs. McLauren, of Washington, D. C. who are visiting relatives and friends in this section.

Ira C. McCloskey is going to Pittsburgh tomorrow evening on a business trip.

PHILIPPINES DEMANDING Immediate And Absolute Independence From U. S.

Manila, July 25.—Immediate and absolute independence for the Philippine Islands, to solve the present political crisis here was demanded yesterday in resolutions adopted by the Independence Committee, composed of all members of the legislature.

Action of Council, State and Department Secretaries in handing in resignations to General Leonard Wood because of general interference with civil affairs by the Governor General was endorsed. Recall of General Wood was demanded. Resolutions will be sent to President.

100 MORE STATE EMPLOYEES GET THE BLUE SLIP

Harrisburg, Pa., July 25.—More than 100 state employees were given notice of dismissal by heads of departments today in the general reorganization plan worked out by Governor Pinchot at Milford this week.

The dismissals were in Departments of Health, Property and Supplies, Forestry, Labor and Industry.

The dismissals were in Departments of Health, Property and Supplies, Forestry, Labor and Industry.

The names of employees selected to go were not given out, but as fast as word from the Governor was received the notices were prepared.

The number dropped today brings the total in all departments thus far to about 200.

TO AID JAMESVILLE M. E. CHURCH

Mrs. George Fox of Jamesville entertained a number of ladies of the neville M. E. church Thursday or last week at her home for the purpose of stimulating work in the Ladies Aid Society. The event was a very enjoyable one. A fine lunch was served after which members made their usual contribution and held their business session. The next place of meeting will be the home of Mrs. Irvin.

It is the purpose of the organization to assist the church in every particular and just now they are bending their efforts toward obtaining funds for a new furnace for the church.

METHODISTS OF ENTIRE NATION TO BECOME AS ONE CHURCH IN 1925

Cleveland, Ohio, July 25.—The administration of the northern and southern branches of the Methodist Episcopal church will be united in 1925.

The unification was effected by a joint commission of the two sections concluding their conference here today.

Although identical in all other respects, the administrative function of the northern and southern parishes have been split since the slavery issue of 1844.

The merger will be passed upon by general conferences and it is expected final ratification will be completed in 1925.

The latest figures estimates Methodist church membership at 6,200,000.

PUBLIC HEARING ON MAHAFFEY BRIDGE ON MONDAY NEXT

AT COURT HOUSE

The county bridge over the Susquehanna river at Mahaffey which has been more or less in the limelight for some time, will be given a final public airing on Monday next, according to an order made by Judge Bell yesterday.

This bridge, which is in the center of the improved state road at Mahaffey, had a hard time getting a place in the sun because the County Commissioners were at a loss for a time to get the wherewithal to pay for it. This necessary "joint" being passed the contract for the bridge was awarded to Whitaker & Diehl of Harrisburg.

During the course of construction the county viewers held, after looking the bridge over, that the contractors were not carrying out the specifications and a second "joint" was reached. The viewers, Messrs. A. G. Kramer, of Clearfield; H. A. Reese, of Kylertown, and J. S. Michaels, of Mahaffey, called the alleged defects to the attention of the contractors and County Commissioners at a hearing in the arbitration room of the Court House on May 11th. This hearing was adjourned to May 16 and more time was then granted in order that the contractors might have time to remedy the defects complained of.

On July 14th the viewers were no-

OTTO MOBILIST DID A FINE JOB THIS MORNING

Mr. Otto Mobilist, Altoonans are satisfied, is a mighty fine fellow, and so are all his fellows, dozens of whom were right on the job when the excursion train arrived this morning at the Pennsylvania station. Scott McKelvey, too, says, "Tell the folks through the paper tonight that Clearfield has a royal bunch of fellows. It was no job at all to act as chairman with such support. Everybody in town seemed to want to help. Thanks to all."

When the heavy train, carrying over 600 excursionists, arrived in town this morning, long lines of autos were waiting and in jig time they were all over at the park making merry. No lugging of baskets, no tired children. "It was great" so said they all.

And this evening these good fellows are going to duplicate their good work. The train leaves at 7:10 this

ALTOONA SHOP MEN AND FAMILIES ENJOY OUTING AT PARK; COME IN SPECIAL TRAIN OF TWELVE COACHES

Representatives of the freight, steel and bolt shops, truck shop, lumberyard, metal yard and yard laborers of the Pennsylvania railroad at Altoona, to the number of nearly 600 people, came to Clearfield this morning in a special train of 12 coaches for the purpose of picnicking in the beautiful Clearfield Park.

The train arrived at 9:30 o'clock and was met by delegations representing the Rotary and Commercial Clubs and other business men of the town.

When the picnicers hopped off their train they found automobiles waiting to take the women, children and old people to the Park, while several trucks were also at hand for transporting baskets and catching the park. The crowd was not long in getting over and soon family parties were located about the grove while the process of getting dinner was soon under way.

The party had an up-to-date orchestra along with them and as soon as they could get their instruments in shape the dancing floor in the big exhibition building was occupied by 10

Arthur Mullen, Former Clearfield Boy, Dies Of An Accidental Shooting

Arthur Mullen, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henchbarger, was accidentally shot at his home in Akron Ohio, on Sunday, July 16th, 1923, and died a few hours later in the city hospital.

The lad's parents were away from home at the time and several other boys were with Arthur in the Henchbarger home. One of the boys picked up a shot gun, which he "didn't know was loaded," and while examining the gun it was discharged, the load striking Arthur in the leg, inflicting a terrible wound. The accident occurred at 4 o'clock p. m. and the boy passed away at the hospital at 9 o'clock.

Arthur was a manly boy and was well liked by all who knew him. He was born in Paradise, Lawrence township, on May 16, 1909. He is survived by his father and stepmother. He was a grandson of the late Emanuel Henchbarger.

The funeral occurred the following Wednesday, interment being made in Mount Peace cemetery beside his mother, who died with the flu in 1918.

AUGUST 14 TO 21ST. CHAUTAUQUA DATES FOR CLEARFIELD

Chautauqua is coming to Clearfield, August 14th, to 21st. Seven week days of refined entertainment, worth-while instruction and enjoyment for grown-ups and children alike. Arrange your vacation so that you will not miss a single session. The entertainers, lecturers and concert troupes, comprise men and companies of national and international renown.

Among these are Opie Resc, Dr. Norwood, Edmund Vance Cooke, Dr. R. Ford, scientist Hon. Charles J. Cole, Dunbar Quartette and Bell Ranges, and the Dunbar White Husars. The Shakespearean comedy, "I am a Shrew" and the prize Chautauqua play "Crossed Wires" will be given.

Chautauquas are "Ten Universities." It is an attempt in harmony with spirit of the age to give the opportunity to those who will never be able to enjoy university training, to get many of the very advantages that a great university gives to its students. The very best talent compatible with the wealth and interest manifested by the towns visited is procured. Men and educators of national and international reputation are employed in this work.

Any community which fails to provide recreation, cultural, entertainment and educational influences will stagnate and its young people will either engage in questionable and mani-

HETTAGER, DRIVER OF JOYRIDE PARTY TO ANSWER ED

District Attorney Caused Warrant to

Growing Out of Death

TWO RIDERS KILLED

Carl Hettager, of Dunsmuir, diamond drifter, who earned his money driving the Ford car which was wrecked on the Philadelphia-Clearfield road on Mapleton hill early on the morning of Thursday, July 19th, as a result of which two men lost their lives, will be called upon to answer three serious charges in the Clearfield county courts.

It is said that about midnight previous to the accident Hettager and party of four other men left Philadelphia in Hettager's Ford and traveled up into the Houtzdale country where a supply of moonshine and other taking generously thereof started on their return trip to Philadelphia.

The car left the road on the Mapleton hill, ran up a 16-foot embankment and toppled back into the ditch on the side of the road. Joseph Attorneys, Dunsmuir, was caught under the car and his life crushed out. "Big M. Loss, of Millersburg, was fractured skull and other injuries which resulted in his death at the Cottage State hospital at Philadelphia on Saturday morning last. Hettager received a broken leg and other injuries, while James A. Henson, of Johnstown, and Ray Snyder, of Millwood, suffered minor hurts in the wreck.

GET THE KIDNEY VACCINATED NOW FOR SCHOOL TERM

Harrisburg, July 24, (United Press)—Dr. Charles H. Minor, Secretary of Health, has taken measures to assure that no children are admitted to the public schools this fall who are not properly immunized against small pox, in accordance with the vaccination law of the state, it was announced today.

Boards of School Directors and school principals, who are liable to prosecution for failure to demand a certificate of successful vaccination has notified the various districts to "carefully and strictly" enforce this law.

Medical inspectors appointed for the new term have been advised by Dr. J. Erue McCrory, Director of the Bureau of Child Health, to carefully examine the scar of all pupils whose record does not contain confirmation of the previous examination that the vaccination was a success.

The Health Department asks for co-operation of the Parents to see that their children are successfully vaccinated before the opening day of school.

The method of procedure in case of necessity for revaccination is stated as follows.

"In cases where children have had two or more attempts at vaccination without producing a successful result, in order to be legally admitted to school, said children must be officially revaccinated by the official Board of Health physician in a city, borough or first class township, or in the rural districts by the County Medical Director, or one of his duly authorized deputies.

"These official vaccinations will be performed free of charge and a certificate issued which will admit children to school for the present school term whether the result is successful or not."

whole of the story. According to information obtained by Dr. G. A. Rick- etts here and others who have inves- tigated the incident, little Veronica will be handicapped through life be- cause her heroic spirit prompted her to rush to the rescue of a little play- mate. Headless of her own danger she saved his life and made the fear- ful sacrifice.

Little Johnny Anderson, who lives in the same neighborhood as the Chierney girl, is aged 6, nearly as old as Veronica, but he did not know dan- ger as she knew it because the girl had little brothers and sisters to look after as is likely to be the case in a family of numerous children, and there is certainly no indication of race prejudice in the Chierney home. The Anderson boy, unconscious of the dan- ger, crawled under one of the big coal cars standing on a siding in the Osce- ola yard.

The Chierney girl happened to see him just as one of the yard engines pushed onto the siding to shift the cars farther up the track. The girl was about a hundred yards away from the boy at the time. There was no one near to call to, no one could stop the iron monster as it moved up toward the car under which her little playmate sat. Swiftly she ran to- ward the boy.

It was a race between the little legs and the big steam engine. The girl won—and lost. She reached the lit- tle boy in time to push him out from under the car from the side opposite her own. He escaped unharmd. But as she was getting back to safety on her own side of the car the engine bumped it and her little hands, rest- ing on the rail to give herself a final shove, were caught by the wheels and crushed. She saved her playmate's life, but she will be seriously crippled all her days.

There are organizations and fund- for the rewarding of those who brave- ly endanger their own lives to save others. Surely little Veronica Chier- ney, who possesses little more than a heroic soul, deserves to be classed among the very brave and it ought to be some one's duty to see to it that she does not go through life with such a terrible handicap without the recog- nition that is due and which may mean so much to her and her parents who are not in a position to give her any training or schooling to aid her.

tified of the completion of the bridge but on viewing same refused to give it their official ok because of defects in the roadbed. The viewers object to the roadbed construction, it being the contention that the roadway is low in the center and high on the sides, when just the reverse should be true, and they also find fault with the clearing and pointing of the abut- ments and pier. In their report to the court, filed Tuesday, they ask that two layers of asphalt with two covers of limestone be placed upon this road- way and that $500 of the contract price be retained by the Commission- ers until this is done.

Upon receipt of this report Judge Bell made the following order:— In the Court of Quarter Sessions of Clearfield County, Penna.

In re: Mahaffey bridge. No. 6 May Sessions, 1923. Now, July 24th, 1923, the report of the viewers inspecting the said bridge having been received, it is ordered that a public hearing be had upon this subject upon July 30th, 1923, at 9 o'clock a. m., at the Court House; no- tice thereof to be given to the con- tractor, to the County Commissioners and the County Controller, with op- portunity to interested citizens to also be heard if they so desire.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. G.

The death of Senator William P. Dillingham of Vermont removes from the Senate rolls the last octogenarian. And on March 4, when Congress adjourned there were three!

Senator Page, also of Vermont, who was 80 last January, retired on that date.

Kent Nelson of Minnesota, three weeks younger than Page, died in May on his way from Washington to his home.

And Dillingham, midway to his 80th year, died early in July.

Removal of these octogenarians from the Senate leaves Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, now one month past 70, the oldest member. Next comes LaBaron Celt of Rhode Island, 77; then Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, a youngster of 73, third. Lodge of Massachusetts, three months younger than Cummins, comes fourth.

Lightning recently killed 11 Americans in 24 hours. In the same time, the heat ended the lives of 12. Still, all of us are afraid of lightning, while few fear heat. Lightning has the better stage setting, and most of us are easily swayed by the theatrical.

Danger and fear affect us in peculiar ways. The most dangerous thing in the world is the slipping ladder. More accidents result from it than from any other cause. Repeatedly we have campaigns for more care in the matter of autos and fires. But did you ever hear of a safety first campaign in the use of ladders?

The most terrible force in nature—lightning—destroys $12,000,000 worth of property a year, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters. This, however, is less than a fifth as much as the yearly fire loss in dwellings, not to mention destruction by fire outside our homes.

Lightning is not preventable, the lightning rods are of great value in protecting us against it. Yet we fear lightning, have deep respect for it. On the other hand, we have only a surface fear of fire, most of which are preventable.

Fear is an excellent emotion, but we rarely vent it in the right direction.

Our "wet" friends are disposed to throw verbal brickbats at Governor Pinchot as the most arrogant, dyed-in-the-wool "dry" to be found any place out of doors, but they are far from the truth as a resume of prohibition laws recently passed by the legislatures of fourteen Mississippi Valley states demonstrates that the Anti-Saloon League is not content in the Middle West with the Volstead variety of enforcement. Nothing short of legal authority for the complete eradication of alcohol from the scheme of things seems to satisfy the lobbyists and lawmakers who reside west of the Appalachians and east of the Rockies.

Iowa's legislators, now on their way home after enacting seven new enforcement statutes, declare illegal the possession of materials with which to make liquor and have extended the search-and-seizure clause to apply to such materials. In Minnesota it is illegal to possess not only the materials but also to possess any formula, recipe or directions or "any apparatus, implements, machine or device, jugs and other containers, used in the manufacture or storing of liquor." Nebraska holds it to be "prima facie evidence of guilt when any person has illicit liquor in a private dwelling, or when he breaks bottles or containers or throws them away or pours out the contents when about to be arrested."

These laws have been passed because it has been found impossible to stamp out fermentation through the operation of statutes modeled on the Volstead act.

The average person seems to have no idea what to do in a case of drowning or near drowning and as a result of this ignorance or lack of information many people rescued from a watery grave are allowed to die after being taken out of the water because none of those present knew what to do toward resuscitating them. In the case of the recent drowning of four persons at Bower, we have heard it said that at least one of the men was yet alive when brought out of the water, yet was allowed to die because those engaged in the rescue work while extremely willing and anxious to defeat death did not know just what to do under the circumstances, even though they did do everything they knew. For the purpose of general information, and in the hope that such information may be the means of saving a life some time, we give herewith a simple, though demonstrated to be effective, way to act with a drowning person when taken out of the water:—

In all cases of drowning the tongue of the patient falls back into the throat, thereby closing the air passages and the throat. The first thing to do then is to reach into the patient's mouth and pull the tongue out. Then lay the patient on his stomach, placing his mouth at the crook of your arm at the elbow. Kneel astride the victim and placing your hands on his sides at the lower end of the ribs lean forward, this action compressing the body forces the water out of the lungs by producing artificial respiration. When the lungs have been compressed release the pressure and allow the chest walls to spring back. Repeat this action from six to eight times per minute and if the tongue is allowed to drop back into the throat the water will soon be expelled from the lungs and many times the victim restored to consciousness and life.

PLAYGROUND NEWS

The playground attendance continues to stack up satisfactorily, the figure for the last week being 2275 making a total for the first four weeks 7769. Figures tell only part of the story for in some cases a small group may be gaining more in fundamental ways than a much larger number but after all the children do not come unless there is some definite thing to come for.

The various obstacles in the path of the base ball game are giving way. Teams are going back and forth from playground to playground, leaping a thing or two besides base ball. The scheduled game between Reedsville diamond with Witmer still in the lead. The score was much closer than the first game and both sides showed the best kind of sportsman-ship. Special credit is due Manager Warner of the Reedsville team for getting his men into shape and to the handfull who stuck to the job for the credit of the home ground. The Witmer team played excellent ball last summer though the loss of the home diamond upset things badly at the first of the season.

East End has had a hard time getting into the game due to the fact that many of their players were at work at the particular time when boys on the grounds are free. A pick-up team from West Side went over to the Eleventh Street ground Friday and the first game was played—score going to East End. The latter went to Reedsville Monday so the game should be well on the go from now on.

Marble.

Marble is a product of marine sediments and volcanic fires. It is laid down on the sea bottom as shell heaps, which gradually turn into chalk. If the strata should be deeply buried in the rocks, the intense heat of the earth causes chemical elements to rearrange themselves so that they crystallize into marble. Various impurities in the chalk give the marble its varied colors.

HORSESHOE NEWS

East End has decided that it has its own boy wonder in the horseshoe line—all due respects to the 15-year-old national champ. In his game last night with Lawrence Ball, Jim Lischcrill showed that he certainly is a corner and bids fair to clean out most of the veterans if he keeps the pace he has set so far. In the other singles match, Hudson beat Shugarts 5 to 19, with eleven ringers and a double to four.

Keystone Ice Cream Robinson and Shaw, East End, came into the following results:

Keystone 21 21
Robinson and Shaw 15 10
Bender and Sheppe, a new East End combination, played Reed and Schiefer of Second Ward:—
Bender and Sheppe 21 21
Reed and Schiefer 10 12

The winners of the above played one game, Keystone beating them 21 to 9, ringers 5 to 1.

In regard to the game with Corry, word has been received that they expect to be here in time to begin pitching at 3 p. m. Some work will have to be put in on the machine shop courts on Reed street before they will be fit to take care of an audience or accommodate such distinguished visitors, Friday evening there will be a turnout to put in an extra court or two and put things in order for the game.

Ingenuity.

One of the most exciting occupations is that in which boys play on a grating when a coin drops through a grating in the sidewalk. A long stick is found first. Someone provides a end of chewing gum, which is stuck on the end of the stick. Then one of the boys guides the gum to the coin and draws it forth, while the rest of the gang coaches and encourages. Change.

CAN YOU DOUBT IT?

When the Proof Can Be So Easily Investigated.

When so many grateful citizens of Clearfield testify to benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, can you doubt the evidence? The proof is not far away—it is almost at your door. Read what a resident of Clearfield says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you demand more convincing testimony? Ask your neighbor!

F. K. Waple, 422 W. Front St., Clearfield, says: "I was troubled with a severe pain in the small of my back which caused a lot of distress. I also had severe headaches and a lame and tired leg all over. I purchased a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me a lot of good from the start. Two boxes of this medicine fixed me up in fine shape. Since then, when I have had an attack of that kind, I have used Doan's and have always brought good results."

Those Altoona people who picnicked in Clearfield today think that Clearfield people are just the kind of folks that ought to make up the world. And isn't it true? What better thing could a town do to show its heart is in the right place than furnish cars to carry the picnickers back and forth to the trains?

Those Altoonans are just finding out what a lot of people already know. That is why Clearfield is growing. That is why Clearfield will continue to grow.

Any time any of the good people who visit us want to partake of such hospitality daily, drink pure water, have good neighbors and have their children enjoy the benefits of the best schools in the state, they can find all of these things in Clearfield.

Come again, stay longer.

Such examples of self-sacrifice and devotion to friend and playmate as shown by young Carroll and little Miss Chierney, both of the Osceola region, should be rewarded. Young Carroll braved the dangers of a deadly gas to rescue a companion from an old abandoned well. The little lady ran in front of a moving coal car to push a playmate out of danger and lost seven fingers in the effort.

How is it to be done? Cannot the people of that region do something to show the high regard they hold for such traits in mere children and at the same time set a worthy example to others?

Mr. Edward Bok, as editor of the Ladies' Home Journal and closely allied with the Curtis publications, saw great hope in the League of Nations. When he held that view the League was merely an ideal conception. Since then it has become political. Much of the altruism that pervaded the minds of its supporters melted away when it became necessary to get down to brass tacks. Mr. Bok now offers $50,000 in cash for a mere suggestion that will aid in maintaining peace in the world among nations, saying the League cannot perform the needed service because it is has become political. Thus still another champion of the League sees its deficiencies.

GOING TO DO OUR WALKING IN THE DAY TIME

While London, of Woodland and a New York Central telegrapher at the Clearfield Creek Junction, would take a trip of moonshine if he was swimming in it, but regardless of this fact and the further fact that he is mentally well balanced, he certainly had the snakes after him Tuesday night.

Longin, as is his wont, was walking to his work last night, traveling via Barrett and down the path to the old Brett farm over the fence to the New York Central tracks on the hill beyond. About 11 o'clock and while about half way between the State road and the railroad tracks he heard the whirr of a rattlesnake. Not being sure of the location of the snake in the dark, he stopped stock still and as the rattling rattlesnake pulled an electric flash light from his pocket and soon "spotted" a big yellow rattler coiled in the path just a few steps ahead of him. Raising a pistol he carried with him for protection Longin took careful aim and shot and killed the snake. When the noise of the shot had subsided and the snake was writhing in his death agonies, Longin heard another rattlesnake sing behind him and swinging his light about soon focused it on a second rattler, which he also dispatched with a couple of well directed shots from his gun.

Longin thought of snakes during his trick and when returning home this morning had his eye peeled for snakes and before reaching the State road had shot and killed a 3-foot copperhead and a five foot black snake, and this is one snake story that is all true.

TRINITY CHURCH ITEMS

In the absence of Doctor Jacobs the prayer meeting on Wednesday evening will be under the direction of Bible Class No. 16. Mr. Samuel Keit Davis, a Clearfield visitor and a prominent member of the California Baptist church will address the meeting. The music will be under the direction of Hon. Joseph Phillips. All members of this Bible Class are earnestly urged to be present and bring their friends with them.

MODERN DAIRY MAID TO AID COUNTY AGENT HUSBAND

State College, Pa., July 24 — If reports received here today are true, farmers of Clinton County should benefit by the marriage of their farm agent, John B. McColl, Jr., whose wedding took place in Philadelphia last week. This is because the bride, formerly Miss Emily Ashton Gray was the first girl to ever complete the straight dairy course at the Pennsylvania State College school of agriculture.

The wedding was a culmination of a college romance, both the principals having been graduated from Penn State in June, 1922. During her final year, Miss Gray was awarded the Sharpless scholarship of $500 for proficiency in dairy husbandry work at the college, a rare honor, and since graduation she has continued to specialize in the work.

Perhaps in his future tours of Clinton County farms, County agent McColl will be ably assisted along dairy lines by his "dairy maid" bride.

Luxurious "Tubbing."

Ancient bathings of kings had one pair of steps for the rulers to mount the platform and enter the tub and several smaller flights of stairs at each end for attendants to carry up vases of scented water which they would throw on their master.

FORD PRODUCTION IS STILL GREATER THAN HERETOFORE

Detroit, Mich., July 25.—A total of 1,050,185 automotive products were built by the various divisions of the Ford Motor Company during the first six months of the present year, according to figures just compiled.

The output for the half year was as follows:

Ford cars and trucks, domestic and foreign, 941,245; Canada, 46,871; Fordson tractors, 58,557, and Lincoln cars, 3,512.

A new monthly record for production was established by the domestic assembly plants in June with a total of 175,040 Ford cars and trucks, exceeding the output of May by nearly 5,000.

New production marks have been set up almost daily since January but there hasn't been a time when manufacture even approximated the demand.

With production increasing in an endeavor to meet the demand, it is expected that the company will finish the year with a total of approximately 1,800,000 Ford cars and trucks for domestic use alone.

This is the opinion expressed by officials in view of the present prosperous conditions, the increasing number of orders and the outlook for ever better times prevailing during the coming months.

In bringing up production, efforts all along have been devoted to building better. As a result many improvements have been made and though Ford cars and trucks are day at the lowest price level in the history of the company they are of higher quality and present a greater value to the purchaser than ever before.

The demand for Ford trucks is particularly high since it reflects the attitude of business men, as well as farmers toward expansion and greater efficiency. Sales of Ford trucks are more than double those of last year, which indicates the extent of the general prosperity.

For months Ford dealers have had no stocks on hand, buyers absorbing the cars and trucks as rapidly as they are turned out of assembly plants. With this condition continuing production is certain to remain at capacity to aid dealers in making deliveries as quickly as possible.—(Adv.)

FUNERAL OF CHARLES GLASS

The funeral of the late Charles Glass will be held from the home of Mrs. Clara Tate, corner of South Fourth and Margaretta streets, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The remains will arrive in Clearfield or the New York Central train due here at 6:26 this evening.

Painting Windows.

An effective and cheap method of darkening windows is to stipple them by means of a brush with white lead and turpentine, applied lightly or thickly as desired. Red lead could be used where a tint is preferred, or other colors could be obtained by mixing the pigment of the desired shade with the white lead. This preparation can easily be removed.

For White Furniture.

White furniture may be cleaned by dissolving baking soda in warm water and applying the solution to the furniture with a soft cloth, rubbing with a dry one afterward. Finger marks and dirt are easily removed in this simple way. A teaspoon to a pint of water.

FIREMEN MAKE STATEMENT

The Clearfield Fire Department wishes to inform the public that owing to several unforeseen incidents many of the articles which were to have been given away at the Firemen's Bazaar held at the Driving Park during the last week of May, could not be disposed of.

It will be remembered that in the midst of the Bazaar week occurred the severe forest fires on the mountains north of town which took nearly all the firemen and a great many other people out of town.

This and some other circumstances not anticipated greatly impeded carrying on the bazaar as originally planned.

Such articles as still remain in the hands of the firemen will positively be disposed of at the District Convention on Aug. 16. All persons having any interest in any such articles will be given a square deal by the firemen who will make use of every means to see that everything is disposed of according to the original plan.

On a number of the articles, particularly the Ford car, a sufficient sum of money has not as yet been realized to cover the cost of them.

The firemen will therefore solicit among their friends in the hope of realizing enough money to pay the present deficit on these articles and also hope that they may realize some profit from them since the funds are badly needed now.

The firemen do not intend to solicit any donations of money to carry on the District Convention, feeling that a successful disposition of the articles still on hand will furnish the necessary funds, so if a fireman approaches you to solicit an interest in any of these articles go the limit of your ability to help them out.

For the Oilcloth.

Oilcloth should be washed with warm water, to which a little starch (made with boiling water) has been added. Soap should on no account be used.

Progress Editorial For Women

Easy To Lose

By Florence Davies.

So many things are easy to lose Canadian Nickles, invisible hair pins, telephone numbers, the address of that last good laundress—to say nothing of books that you lend and umbrellas that you borrow.

But there is something easier to lose than any of these, and that is a child.

Oh no, not in the flesh. Sometimes on a busy day when the youngsters seem to be under foot every minute we almost wish we could lose them just for half hour. But it isn't that kind of lost child that matters. For most lost youngsters get rounded up by the police or the kind grocer at the corner, who lugs them home.

The little lost boys and girls who really matter are the ones who stay right at home in their bodies but wander off from you in their minds and hearts. They may like you fairly well, but they don't trust you, at least they don't take a chance on letting you into the secret places of their hearts.

This is a more serious kind of losing than the village police reports. Sooner or later he will find the runaway and bring him struggling home. But you can't send a policeman out looking for his heart.

Samuel Merwin, writing in one of the months' magazines has spent a lot of time studying children, his own, and he knows. He doesn't believe in lying to children. He doesn't think it does much good to lie to children, anyhow. For, he says, "I do not believe that you can deceive a child, but you can lose him."

"Most of the parents I observe" he explains, "do lie to their children, sometimes in the name of discipline, at other times to avoid difficult explanations, often merely to save themselves inconvenience. They lie carelessly, because there isn't time to answer questions fully."

And that, this author points out, is one of the very best ways to lose children, to lose their confidence and their trust. For children have a way of knowing when you are telling them the truth and once they find out that you have lied to them your day is done.

But it takes time to tell a child the truth, to give him valid reasons for your rulings, to make him understand the cans and can'ts of things, the things that pay and the things that don't pay, that takes time.

But it takes more time to get a child back once you've lost him than it does to keep him by this kind of patience. And besides there's a big chance of succeeding by one plan, and a mighty slim one with the other. Once lost, nothing is harder to find again than a child's confidence.

New York Central Railroad as to the need for a additional through route between New York and the Middle West, embracing the Central Railroad of New Jersey, and part of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway. This creates the impression that no such route is no existence. This is correct. There is, and for many years past has been, an established through route from New York via Haverhill, the point of connection between the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Philadelphia and Reading Railway thence via the latter to Newberry Junction, the point of connection with the New York Central Railroad, and thence westward over that line via Clearfield and Ashland.

"All that is necessary to utilize the Haverhill-Newberry Junction-Clearfield route is to forward the freight through. With the physical facilities existing and the joint through rates already established, the New York Central Railroad is, of course, in position to utilize this route just as effectively as would be the case if the entire through route were owned and operated by it. This route, with all the advantages pointed out by the New York Central, is not utilized to anything like its capacity.

"Having made clear the fact that the additional route sought by the New York Central Railroad is already in existence, and open for all who wish to use it, it should be pointed out that the plan of the New York Central Railroad, predicated on the alleged need for the Clearfield route, is a Terminal Discrimination.

"At the present time, as the shipping public of Philadelphia, New York and the country generally well knows, these terminals, like the terminals of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, have been kept open without preference or discrimination for all trunk line connections.

"It would be a great disadvantage not only to the Philadelphia and Reading and its shippers, but to the trunk line serving the Atlantic seaboard and to the entire shipping public, to have the New York Central Railroad of New Jersey in the possession of the New York Central Railroad, thus to a great extent limiting their availability for other lines.

"It will readily be seen from the foregoing that with the Clearfield route already in existence and open for the shipping public to any extent needed to handle traffic between New York and the Middle West, there is no adequate reason for turning over to the New York Central Railroad the Central Railroad of New Jersey with its very valuable terminals at New York and the northern section of the Reading Railroad.

"With the persistent and determined effort of the New York Central Railroad to secure the Central Railroad of New Jersey and its vitally important New York terminals, and the proposal of the Interstate Commerce Commission to consolidate with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad both the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, the shipping interests of Philadelphia richly appreciate the importance of having both the Central Railroad of New Jersey terminals at New York and the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad terminals at Philadelphia kept open for all trunk line connections and the entire shipping public.

"This situation can best be maintained and perpetuated by the consolidation of the Reading and the Jersey Central railroads."

Naturally Philadelphia is much exercised over the proposal of President H. H. H. of the N. Y. C. and the P. R. and expresses their views in the following editorial:

SAVE THE READING!

When the New York Central Railroad casts greedy eyes upon the Reading Railway system and its New Jersey Central connection, it and all New York are apparently acting on the principle that "to him that hath shall be given and from him that hath not shall be taken that which he hath." Philadelphia commercial and industrial interests have hardly recovered from the agitation caused by Prof. Ruggley's plan—laid before the Interstate Commerce Commission—for the incorporation of the Reading-Jersey Central with the Baltimore and Ohio than the New York Central comes along with its proposal to utilize parts of the Reading and Jersey Central lines for the creation of a sixth trunk line from the West entering New York.

That Philadelphia should resist to the limit of its strength any such attempt to deprive it of even that element of competitive service which the Reading and its connections afford goes without saying. We have suffered far too long already from the status practically allotted to us of a way station for the trunk lines having terminals at New York, and are in no mind to consent to a still further

The sun's rays are used to generate the power in a miniature engine recently demonstrated successfully in New York. A parabolic copper mirror focused the rays on a test tube full of water making sufficient steam to work the engine.

Reverseness.

One of the hard things to understand is how the fellow who used to ride to work on a street car—and got there on time—now seems to think he has to drive past all the street cars in town to get down to work at the same hour.

Not Winners.

"What," queried the very young man, "do you think of the men who honestly tell us of our faults?" "Oh," replied the sage, "they usually mean well, but always run behind their ticket at the polls."

Pursuant to a new radium-bearing mineral found in the Belgian Congo, was described in an address by the Belgian Professor Schoof, who told of success in extracting radium from the mineral at an Antwerp laboratory.

The Loofah sponge, now in general use, is made from the network of fiber from the inside of the gourd, probably one of the oldest vessels known to man. Japan furnishes the best sponges of this kind. Jealous Spaniards Hid Wives.
The so-called Venetian blinds first came to Venice from Spain, where they were called "jealousies." The jealous Spanish husband kept his wife in seclusion. She was not allowed to draw up her blinds, but she might peep out through the slits between the lattis.

Surprising.

CORRY GAME ON MACHINE SHOP LOTS
It has been decided to pitch the games Saturday with Corry on the Machine Shop courts on Reed Street. The hour cannot be definitely advertised till Corry figures out more closely when they will arrive, but it will probably be sometime between three and four.

This Horseshoe club is not a money-making concern but the traveling and hotel expenses of four and possibly five men will be something of a bill so all the spectators who have been seeing good pitching all season free are urged to rally round with their quarters. This challenge was extended long ago with much enthusiasm on the part of Corry as to the outcome, but did not come to a head until last week. It is rather up to the fans to show the visitors that the horseshoe game is both played and supported here. Definite announcement of the schedule will be made soon.

ODD FELLOWS INVITED
Blackie Laige No. 1008, I. O. O. F. of Nanty-Glo, has arranged for an inter-county Odd Fellows Basket Parade, to be held on New Mountain Lake Park, on the William Penn highway between Prince Gallatin Spruce and Dunkinville, on Wednesday, August 1st. All Odd Fellows, Rubakals and their families and friends are invited. An all-day program of sports has been arranged, including dancing during the afternoon and evening. On Sept. M. S. Bents of Elmsburg will deliver an address at 1:30. Everybody welcome.

MARRIED THIS MORNING
A party of five from the Phillipsburg region camped on the front porch of the Presbyterian manse this morning about 11 o'clock and when the accommodating domestic appeared on the scene the spokesman announced that one of the couples desired to be hitched double. Accordingly, Dr. Reeve arranged Frank Gutschell of Phillipsburg and Ethel Hebben of New Liberty along side of each other and in due form pronounced them man and wife. The couple were attended by George Gutschell and Harriet Bechtel, and William Redmond, a brother-in-law of the bride, will ever be a witness to the fact. The ring ceremony was used.

Babies Born at Sea, en Route to U. S., Americans
New York July 25.—Babies born at sea, on shipboard bound for the United States will hereafter become American citizens.

This decision has been handed down by Henry Curran, Custom Commissioner in charge of Ellis Island. Its task to Davy Jones locker and the tradition that a child born at sea is doomed to the nationality of the flag the vessel is flying. The ruling was made because in several instances baby immigrants born at sea had to be deported because the quota of their country was full.

LISTEN

Curwensville's Own Column

Hon. Chas. E. Patton, one of the prominent members of Chester county, and Joseph H. Patton, only son of the late Hon. A. K. Patton by a daughter, attended the funeral of the late H. D. Nescope Monday.

Rev. Max Lantz, a former pastor of the M. E. church in this place, now residing in Altoona, was in Curwensville Monday attending the funeral of the late H. D. Nescope. Mr. Lantz is always one of a warm welcome to Curwensville people, he being such a genial fellow and everybody is sure to have a pleasant time when he is here. He is a very popular man and is always a welcome visitor to the town.

The Crescent Refractories company met with another loss last Wednesday night by the destruction of a saw mill on the Adam Way lands situated on the Chestnut Ridge. A considerable lumber stock was burned.

Miller's Farm, claiming Bridgeport as his abiding place, informed us that Monday was an unusually cold morning for this time of the year. At his place about six o'clock a. m. the thermometer registered 38 degrees, or an equivalent to six points above frost.

Mrs. Francis Barnes, of Phillipsburg, was in Curwensville Monday accompanied by her sister Mrs. M. J. Barnes.

Mr. Elmer Fink, of Phillipsburg, and Mr. Frank Moore of Kelly town were guests in the home of Mrs. Samuel W. Smith Monday.

Miss Eva Buehl, of Altoona, was a visitor at the home of her aunt Mrs. Chas. Miller, South Side, Sunday and Monday.

Joe Hartill and Miss Esther Twigg drove over a Sandy Ridge Sunday and partook of a real duck dinner.

Miss Helen Mordue has returned to her Curwensville home after spending the week end with Mrs. W. Milport Mordue.

The storm showed in a shagging off from the State Highway close to the M. J. Kelly home. A great many people had that way to watch the monster shovel move more dirt at one clip than ten men could do with a hand shovel. Many might never see an animal like that before and it is of some curiosity to them.

The funeral of Artie Palmer was held Monday forenoon from the Lutheran church.

It is estimated, roughly of course, that there were in the neighborhood of two hundred people out at the Lee West-Side last Sabbath. Cars kept coming and going all day long and the who was out at the Bliger rocks Sunday tells us that the woods were full of people and those who were out for recreation.

H. H. C. and wife and daughter, of the M. J. Kelly home, departed for the home of their week's visit with their daughter, Mrs. George Kelly, South Side, Sunday.

There was still in a little hemlock timber left somewhere in Pennsylvania as a number of red and white loads of hemlock bark are arriving at the Pennsylvania Hile and Lumber company's plant daily. There have been some ten or twelve car loads on the siding. It does not come a very great amount of hemlock bark at this late date to make burning liquor as the larger percentage of that liquid is distilled from hemlock bark, which makes a greater tanning property than the all original hemlock and oak bark. The juice from hemlock is used more to give color to the hide than for tanning purposes.

Owing to a shortage of orders, it and by the men, work at the Crescent brick plant is being shortened to five days a week. Unless business brightens up considerably soon, another cut is sure to follow along labor lines.

Miss Mary Wright was removed from her home on South Filbert street yesterday morning to Clearfield Hospital where she will receive medical treatment during the further progress of her illness.

Mrs. Nell Connors, of Altoona, is a visitor in the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Leta Strickland on North Filbert street.

The funeral of the little Clark Bennett child was held from the home of True Landon yesterday afternoon. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Squire James Caldwell came over from Tyrone Monday and will spend the balance of the week with relatives in Curwensville and vicinity.

A gathering of members of the Curwensville C. T. U. was held in Curwensville yesterday afternoon.

George Fleming, the regular sexton of Oak Hill cemetery, has so far recovered from a recent illness as to be able to be about on the porch of his Bloomington avenue home. Since his illness the work at the cemetery has been under the supervision of his son Harry Fleming.

Manager John Norris is having the interior of the Opera House and other conveniences added for the benefit of the patrons of that show house.

According to an item published in the Haffman Journal a few weeks ago that paper stated among other news items which occurred in the year 1900, "Curwensville had a population of almost 2000. We refer the Journal to Smul's hand book printed in that year."

Persons who travel across the upper Anderson creek bridge leading to Anderson street and up along the creek claim that the structure has become unsafe for vehicle and pedestrian travel. That may be all true enough, as we have heard that complaint before, yet every day those huge brick yard coal trucks and many other automobiles cross and recross that structure. It might be well, however, to thoroughly investigate the present condition of that bridge before any fatal or otherwise accident occurs. You know that "a stitch in time oftentimes saves nine" and then some.

Lessons in Violin, Mandolin and Voice will be taught in classes in the basement of M. E. Church, Curwensville, by Prof. F. A. McDivitt, who has been teaching piano and voice individually here. All those interested can see Mr. McDivitt at the church Monday, July 30th, from 7 a. m. to 12 p. m. 72631 pd

OHIO WETS AND DRY TO RENEW BATTLE

Columbus, O., July 24. (U. P.)—Ohio, cradle of prohibition, is to witness another battle over the wet and dry issue.

Forces of the American Anti-Saloon League and the Organization Against Prohibition are maneuvering for another spectacular clash.

The "drys" have laid plans—with $2,500,000 backing—to fight off any attempts of this or any other state to repeal its prohibition enforcement code. Their goal is to make Ohio a shining example of dryness for the whole country.

The "wets," following the recent Anti-Saloon League war council at Westerville, announced the first step in the counter-attack would be moving their headquarters to Columbus, a more strategic point, they believe, than Toledo.

"It will be fine business," said C. C. Hinkley, "if we can announce inroads on the dry cause right here in the home state of the Anti-Saloon League." Hinkley is general manager of the Organization Against Prohibition.

As soon as the organization's headquarters is well established here, the work will begin in earnest, said Hinkley. "We are going to hold the 180,000 dry votes we had in the election last fall and we're going to swell that number to a substantial wet majority."

Like their "enemy dries," Hinkley's men plan to do their missionary work in the congressional districts.

"Dry" leaders, declaring they are more amused than frightened by the activities of the opposition, point out that every possible indication of the trend in Ohio since she first went dry has been that she is growing drier every year.

It is true that there is not the sparkling enthusiasm for battle among the "wets" of the electorate that has marked other conflicts on this issue.

Most Ohioans seem reconciled to a town caller on Wednesday.

Mrs. Martin Romanek of Kelly town called on her parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bullen on Friday.

Mrs. E. Gardner of Bauman was a caller in town on Friday evening.

Mrs. Frank Heverly of Tyrone called on friends in town on Thursday. Charley Haines of Madera was a Smoke Run caller on Friday.

Ste Manjack took a load of M. F. Sunday-school young people to Curwensville to attend the S. S. Field day on Thursday.

Mrs. Eli Pritchard and daughter of Amesville were callers in town on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gatchouse of Johnstown called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Melson on Tuesday.

Mrs. Sadie Kniff of Houtzdale spent Tuesday with her mother Mrs. Jack Melson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bailey and two children spent Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Elsie Dowling near Carnwath.

"dry" future insofar as the law is concerned and few persons will deny that the work of the prohibition agents has been effectual.

There was great promise in the work of the Organization Against Prohibition before the election last fall. People were thinking there might be something to the talk of wine and beer coming back in the state. But then the election came and the "damps" were defeated overwhelmingly. Now there doesn't seem to be so much of that old-time confidence in the "wet" ranks.

Election time, however, may bring new life to the campaigners and new enthusiasm to the voters.

To Relieve Canaries of Vermin. Canary birds are often covered with vermin. They may be relieved of them by placing a clean white cloth over their cage at night. In the morning the cloth will be covered with minute red spots so small that they can hardly be seen with the naked eye. These are the parasites, a source of great annoyance to the birds.

Mean Man.

"I hear that Laura's engagement to the young minister is off." "Why, yes, she told me. He was horribly jealous and so unfair." "In what way was he unfair?" "Every time she would make an engagement to go motoring with some other man he would pray for rain."

Stagnant Spots in Ocean.

The Sargasso sea is almost the resting center of the whirl of the ocean currents in the north Atlantic. The seaweed comes from distant shores, where it has been wrenched off by the force of the currents. There are four other great weed-bampered areas of little motion beside the Sargasso sea.

Fairy Palaces.

Do you know what fairy palaces you may build of beautiful thoughts, proof against all adversity? Bright fancies, satisfied memories, noble histories, faithful sayings, treasure houses of precious and useful thoughts, which can never destroy, nor pain make gloomy; houses built without hands for our souls to live in.—Baskin.

His Definition.

"Why are they called pyramids, pa?" asked George, who was looking at a picture of those wonders of Egypt. "They are called pyramids, my son," replied the father, without hesitation, "because, you see, they 'appear' and the general desolation of the desert."

Uncle Eben.

"Some day," said Uncle Eben, "I may feel that it's up to me to go on one of these here hunger strikes. If it ever happens I'll have to be at the time of year when it's too late for spring chickens and too early for termelon."

Hundreds of Walking Advertisements In And Around Clearfield

Most of the husky kiddies that you see running around the streets and the playgrounds of this city—those who are "bottle raised"—have been fed our milk in modified form at first and then full strength. They have come along as a husky baby should and have come into their early childhood as strong and lively as their parents would like them to be.

There is, in our milk, all the food values that should be there and everything that is needed for the proper growth of the child, both mentally and physically.

If you are having trouble with your baby's feed, have your physician prescribe and then use our milk to fill out the diet plan.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE BEEKEEPERS' ASSOCIATION PICNIC

Harrisburg, Pa., July 23, 1923.—The summer picnic of the Pennsylvania State Beekeepers' Association will be held August 1, 1923, at the home apiaries of Hill Bros., near Honesdale, Pa.

The big feature of the picnic will be the inspection of the large commercial apiaries of Hill Bros. demonstrations and a few addresses by prominent practical beekeepers. A profitable time is assured. Every beekeeper in northeastern Pennsylvania is invited not only to come himself but to bring his family. The golf roads and the auto permit coming.

The Ladies Aid will serve dinner to those who desire it at fifty cents per plate.

Ignore Supper Law. One of the ridiculous acts of parliament still in existence in England is that passed in the reign of Edward III, regulating the meals of the people, which forbids more than two courses being served at dinner or supper, except on certain holidays. Needless to say, the law is broken with impunity.

Just stone deaf—to "just as good" appeals, is Hexa Thirstie. But he can hear a whisper—when it comes to Ward's original "Crush." Turn a deaf ear to the substitute. There isn't any.

INSIST on taste

Just because Ward's Orange-Crush is a mellow golden color, don't be fooled by a "gold brick" imitation. Your taste will tell every time. Ward's Crushes owe their distinctive and delightful flavors to the natural fruit oils of oranges, lemons and limes. To these have been added pure cane sugar, citrus fruit juices, U.S. certified food color, fruit acid and carbonated water. Everybody likes them.
